

I agree with Michael Copps, we need more time to review this issue. I also feel that one entity owning 35% of the media would be dangerous. I am against the idea no matter what potential benefits there may be.